Cut, Is Report

MUKDEN FORCE MAKES GAIN
Commander of Government Troops Said to Be Traitor to Wu Pei Fu

By Associated Press
Tientsin—Portions of the eleventh division of the Chinese national army under command of Feng Yu-Hsiang, the "Christian General" revolted at Peking Thursday morning, seized the city's gates, cut all telegraph and telephone lines and stopped all train service, according to reliable information reaching here.

General Feng and his army were supposed to have been at Jehol, about 100 miles northeast of Peking where they were supposed to stop an expected advance from Mukden of the Manchurian army of Chang Tso Lin, who is making war on the central government at Peking. Apparently General Feng never progressed beyond the Great Wall.

Shanghai — Peking was suddenly cut off from telegraphic communication with all outside points Thursday morning.

An American naval wireless message from Peking, confirming the fact that the capital is cut off from communication with outside points, says that the city is peaceful and that there is no cause for alarm. The reason for the isolation of the city has not been ascertained here.

Tokyo — General Feng Yu Hsiang, commander of the Peking central government troops in their defensive battles on the Chihli-Manchurian border against the invading forces of General Chang Tso Lin, Manchurian leader, has conspired against General Wu Pei Fu, military head of the Peking government, according to a dispatch here Thursday from Tientsin.
The dispatch adds that General Feng, who is known for his Christian practices, has entered Peking and the situation is said to be grave.

Later reports from Tientsin say General Feng, entering Peking with a bodyguard, demanded that President Tsao Kun issue a mandate ordering the suppression of General Wu Pei Fu.

ONE MORE ADDRESS ON DAVIS SCHEDULE

Democratic Candidate Starts
East on Last Leg of Campaign Tour

By Associated Press
Davis Train, Enroute to Cleveland, Ohio—With but one more formal address that scheduled for Cleveland
Thursday night—John W. Davis, Democratic candidate for president was on his way east Thursday completing the last leg of his two weeks final campaign drive in the middlewest.

The train passed out of Indiana early Thursday headed for Cleveland and thence on to New York, where the final drive of the candidate's personal campaign will be started Saturday.

Mr. Davis put the finishing touches on his Indiana tour Wednesday night at Evansville after speaking earlier in the day at Vincennes and making a brief stop at time at Princeton.

At Evansville he replied to Secretary of War Weeks' address in New York Tuesday evening, characterizing the war secretary as one of the still unmuzzled members of the cabinet.

In Vincennes Mr. Davis charged that the "three and one half years of power by the Harding-Coolidge administration have produced this radical third party of which they complain."

STONE RULING LIMITED TO ESTATE TAX, CLAIM

Washington, D. C.—Attorney General Stone's ruling respecting the rights of the federal government to collect taxes under the California community property law sent to the treasury Wednesday, was limited to a ruling on estate tax phases of the question, it developed Thursday upon the return to Washington of Secretary Nelson. While the decision of Mr. Stone was kept secret, Mr. Mellon let it be known that the Attorney General had not touched on the question of federal income tax collection under the California act.

The treasury secretary said Thursday the attorney general had as yet been unable to arrive at a conclusion respecting the income tax phases of the law.

Five Face Noose For One Crime

By Associated Press
Montreal—For the first time in the criminal history of Montreal, five will be hanged for the same crime in Bordeaux jail here Friday. They were condemned to death on July 28
last for the murder of Henri Cleroux, chauffeur of the collection car of the Bank of Hochelaga.

The quintet are Luis Morel, ex-Montreal detective and erstwhile athlete; Arcangelo Di Vincenzo alias Tony Frank; at one time a master mind of Montreal's "underworld"; Giuseppe Serafini, Frank Gambino and Mike Valentino.

A sixth bandit, Leo Dault, was condemned to die also but the production of new evidence caused his execution to be postponed until Nov.
6.

Last minute efforts to save the murderers from the scaffold will be made in Ottawa Friday morning.
With the exception of Morel the murderers spent most of their time in prison. Morel continues to engage in physical exercises in his cell.

BOMBING ATTACK REOPENS DORMANT CHINA TONG FEUD

Two Chinese in Laundry at Time of Blast Escape Without Injury

By Associated Press
Chicago—The Chinese tong warfare here, at a lull since Monday night when five separate attacks resulted in one death and a serious wounding, resumed activity early Thursday when a laundry in Chinatown was partly wrecked in a bomb explosion. Two Chinese, in the building at the time, were uninjured. They denied membership in any tong but were held for questioning.

The laundry was located in the On Leong territory, the police said. Although patrolling squads in Chinatown were doubled Wednesday night when reports were current that one tong had said "at least eight more must die," officers found no clues to the identity of the persons responsible for the explosion.

Cooperating with eastern authorities, detectives started a search for Chin Jack Lem, former On Leong leader, who is credited with having stirred up much ill feeling between rival tongs. Lem was arrested here last week and questioned regarding possession of a pistol, but was released after he exhibited a deputy sheriff's star. He was indicted recently in Cleveland for extortion, the authorities said.

Twelve Chinese arrested in a barricaded hotel room Wednesday were held as suspects in connection with recent shootings which have resulted in three deaths in two weeks.

Are Cruisers Jinxed?

The Trenton, one of Uncle Sam's new light cruisers, is the latest of the group to meet with accidents. Five were killed and 17 injured, eight fatally, in an explosion which occurred in the forward twin-gun mount of the cruiser, caused by a powder fire. Nearly all of the light cruiser division have had bad luck. The Omaha, burnt out a boiler; the Cincinnati hit a submerged rock off the coast of Chile; the Milwaukee lost an airplane in Samoa; the Richmond has lost several airplanes and has had her fore-topmast carried away. This photo shows the Trenton.

Third Party Makes Maryland Doubtful

Banking and Business Sections of Baltimore Seek to Administer Rebuke to Democrat
Radicals

By Associated Press
Baltimore, Md.—This is the first of the border states, normally Democratic, which should be classed as doubtful. It will not go by a large plurality to either Davis or Coolidge and it seems certain that the outcome will be close enough to speak a plurality and not a majority.

If there were two candidates in the field, Davis would win in a walk, but the LaFollette candidacy probably will take enough votes from the Democrats to do the very thing the supporters of the third party ticket would not wish to do if they had to choose as between Coolidge and Davis.

No better illustration of what the LaFollette movement has done can be found than in a canvass of the banking and business sections of Baltimore. In their desire to administer a rebuke to radicalism and make certain the victory of a conservative, hundreds of normally Democratic business men and their families who admire Davis are going to ballot for Coolidge. There is a surprising amount of Coolidge sentiment in this city which usually is so heavily Democratic that in most campaigns the results obtained here are sufficiently large to cut down the Republican lead obtained in the rural districts.

BOB HEADS EAST TO LEAD FIGHT ON G. O. P. FUND

LaFollette Will Make Final Appeal to Michigan in Grand Rapids Talk

By Associated Press
LaFollette Special, Enroute to Grand Rapids, Mich.—Bound for Grand Rapids, Mich., where he is scheduled to speak Thursday night before carrying his fight for the presidency into eastern states, Senator Robert M. LaFollette Thursday issued this statement:

"I am going into the east to finish my fight for the presidency for a number of reasons.

"First—I know that the west is safe for the Progressive ticket and that if the Progressive eastern states with large electoral votes are carried by us we will win the election by the direct vote of the people on Nov. 4.

"Second—I know that if the people of the eastern states are permitted to render a verdict influenced by their own desires and political convictions we will carry these eastern states.

"Third—I know that Wall Street is attempting to coerce the workers of the large industrial centers into voting for either Coolidge or Davies under threat of closing down every factory and throwing millions out of work in the event of my election.

"I am going into the industrial centers to tell the workers personally that under the secret Australian ballot system no man is permitted to know how they vote and to lend my personal leadership to the great group of eastern Progressives who are working to reclaim the government for the people.

"Fourth—Important and vital information is being brought to me every day regarding the huge slush fund which is being raised by Wall Street in the industrial states of the east.

"It is necessary that I should be near at hand in order to consult with my counsel and keep in close touch with this situation which develops new angles daily and almost hourly.

"At the proper time I will disclose this information from the platform or through counsel representing the Progressives before the Borah commit-

SPEEDY RECOVERY SEEN FOR EMERY

Jealous Husband Held on Charge of Shooting With Intent to Kill

By Associated Press
Grand Rapids, Mich.—Physicians
Thursday predicted speedy recovery for Col. John F. Emery, former commander of the American Legion and veteran of several major engagements in the World War who was shot
Wednesday by Chedell Simpson.

Unless infection sets in, the doctors said, the wound would not prove serious. Emery was shot after Simpson came to the office and demanded to know whether Mrs. Simpson was there. On learning that she was employed there Simpson charged Emery with attempting to break up his home. Mrs. Simpson, who had brought suit for divorce, is a stenographer at Emery's real estate office.

After the shooting, Col. Emery asserted that he knew nothing about the family troubles of Mrs. Simpson, except that she had told him she was suing her husband for a divorce.

Mrs. Simpson in a statement said that her husband's assertion that Emery had broken up his home was absurd. She said she had been employed at the office but had been dismissed and had not worked there for two weeks.

Simpson held in jail in default of bail will be arraigned Thursday on a charge of shooting with intent to kill, the prosecuting attorney announced.

Preserve Initiative First Task, Coolidge

Washington, D. C.—Preservation of initiative and enterprise is the "primary thing which we have to do in our country," President Coolidge Thursday told the executive committee of the New York Businessmen's Republican association who called at the White House.

Freedom of initiative and enterprise carries with it, the president said, an obligation upon every business establishment to "give service" as well as goods to consumers. Declaring the economic system of the government
"fundamentally sound," the president criticized those who emphasize
"out of all due proportion" its abuses.

Correction of these abuses, he said,
lies in the hands of those administering commerce and industry and only they, he added, can prevent the necessity of government intervention.

"Already they have made great advances in this direction," he continued. "Their sense of responsibility has made steady growth during the

ONE KILLED, TWO MISSING AFTER MINE GAS BLAST

Fourteen Miners Entombed in Pits Escape Unharmed
During Night

By Associated Press
Madisonville, Ky.—The body of Paul Wheeler, 19-year old miner, was recovered from the Hart Coal Co.'s mine Thursday, where a gas and dust explosion Wednesday night entombed at least fifteen miners. Two more men are missing and believed to have been buried under a fall of slate. Fourteen entombed men escaped during the night.

Gilliland Joyce, 25, electrician's helper, and Thomas Chinn, 30, electrician, are reported missing. Rescue parties working heroically, hoped to reach the spot where the men are believed to have been buried by noon Thursday or shortly thereafter. A fire was burning Thursday morning between the rescuers and their goal and while the blaze was reported of no serious consequence, workers predict that the missing men might be suffocated if they had escaped the slate fall.

A crew of mine rescue workers, headed by G. S. Powell of the United States Bureau of Mines, arrived
during the night from Evansville, Ind., taking charge of volunteer workers from Madisonville and Barling-

BRYAN APPEALS TO DENVER DEMOCRATS

By Associated Press
Denver, Colo.—William Jennings
Bryan, speaking here Wednesday night, made an appeal for Progressive support for John W. Davis, Democratic presidential nominee, and underlined his appeal by pointing out the back of the Democratic standard bearer.

Basing his appeal on Progressive new versus Conservatism or reactionism, Mr. Bryan denounced the Republican record, defined La Fol-lette's chances of winning and asked for support of Davis.

"That was the worst administration that the country ever saw," he declared referring to the Harding-Coolidge government.

In his closing plea for unification of the Democratic and Independent voters behind Mr. Davis, he said "We are marching under two banners. We have two armies, two candidates. If either wins, we will stop the exploitation of the nation, cleanse the stables at Washington and overthrow the policies that invite corruption in high office."

Five Days Boost G.O.P. Funds By Half Million

Feud Adds Victim To Long List

By Associated Press
Bluefield, W. Va.—Another violent death has been recorded in the family history of the notorious Hatfield clan of West Virginia and Kentucky recalling the days of the Tug river feud between the Hatfields and the McCoy clans. Veteran officials of Monroeville, W. Va., Thursday were investigating the killing of Alex Hatfield, the latest of his line to feel the sting of a bil-liet.

Alex, son of the man who started the far famed feud of years ago, was the victim. During an argument over the coming election, Hatfield is said to have called Thurman Chambers a liar. Chambers told officials that he struck Hatfield with his fist whereupon the latter drew a pistol and in a struggle for possession of the weapon Hatfield was shot. He died in a Williamson hospital Tuesday.

Alex Hatfield, former postmaster of Matewan, West Virginia, was the son of Floyd Hatfield whose suit for a litter of hogs against the McCoy's of Kentucky marked the beginning of a feud in the hills along the Tug river, during which many members of the two families met death.

LOST AIR GIANT ENTERS MEXICO

Shenandoah Resumes Way Toward Home Station After Hectic Trip

By Associated Press
El Paso, Tex.—The Navy Airship Shenandoah was sailing easily towards this city early Thursday enroute to the Fort Worth, Tex., mooring mast after some of the most unusual adventures of her career.

She got badly off her course early Thursday and dipped into Mexico according to reports at Douglas, Ariz., before she was set right by wireless from Fort Huachuca.

As darkness settled on the Shenandoah above the Arizona plains, the gas in the great bags was contracted by chilling breezes and becoming heavier with every drop in the temperature she was forced to jettison 1,400 pounds of gasoline and release one of the tanks after having discharged all water ballast to acquire an even keel. With all motors run now at full speed she had settled to angle of 14 degrees.

At 1:33 A. M. mountain time the Shenandoah had recovered her headings and was above Douglas, 215 miles west of El Paso. She was due at Fort Worth about 4 P. M. The ship will take on 200,000 cubic feet of helium Thursday night and start for Lakeland, N. J., her home station, Friday morning.

STONE WOULD SPLIT MACHINE MONOPOLY

By Associated Press
St. Paul, Minn.—Effective dissolu-

in his behalf in federal court here entered in the same court in 1915.

Mr. Stone contends that greater

The consent decree did not go far enough, he said, demanding that action be taken to give proper protection to the farmers and land owners who are dependents upon agricultural

ASK ZONE CHANGE FOR NEW CREAMERY ON SECOND AVENUE

Zoning Committee Asks Council to Deny Petition for Change of Ordinance

Amendment of the zoning ordinance to make possible the erection of a creamery on Second-avenue between Richmond and Bennett-sts will be the subject of a public hearing called for 7:30 Monday evening in the council chamber of the city hall.

Application has been made to the common council by Andrew Peterson and W. C. Williams so land at that location can be transferred from the residence district to the light manufacturing zone. They withdrew recently from ownership of the Valley Dairy Products Co. and intend to erect a plant of their own where milk will be received from the farmers and distributed on the market. The council has been informed that a building of attractive appearance will be erected and that it will be set back from the street in conformity with the residence line and a lawn and shrubbery placed in front.

PERMIT REFUSED
This application was referred by the council to the zoning committee and that body recommended that the city refuse to grant the petition. The committee declared that none of the property in that part of the city is in the light manufacturing district and that it would constitute only 100 feet of frontage, the committee found.

Where a large building erected on the proposed site of the creamery the city would be prevented from opening Locust-st through to Second-ave at some future time. The land is directly in line with the course Locust-st would have to take if it were extended the remaining distance to Second-ave. The street is 60 feet wide and both the building and the street entrance could not be accommodated within the 100-foot tract, it is said.

Several taxpayers have voiced their objections, declaring that a change in the ordinance not only would permit a creamery to be established there but if the property were sold would allow the owners to erect a sawmill or some other plant there. Most of the homes along Second-ave at that point are new and there is objection to having the change made.

WESTERN GIRL IS SOUSA'S SOLOIST

Miss Nora Fauchald Accompanies Noted Musical Organization to Appleton

One of the great matters of pride with Lieut. Com. John Philip Sousa, the famous bandmaster, always has been that he has never been compelled to go outside America to seek musicians and soloists of sufficient artistic attainments to serve with his famous organization. During the thirty-two years that he has directed his own band, the Sousa bandmen and soloists almost without exception have been Americans by birth and have received their entire musical education in America. This condition is true again this year, and while Miss Nora Fauchald, soprano soloist with the great organization, was born in Norway, she is of American parentage, and her musical education has been acquired exclusively in America.

Miss Fauchald will be with the band when it plays two concerts here on Nov. 7. The presence of Miss Fauchald with the Sousa organization is interesting because she is not from the Atlantic seaboard, which to date has given America the greatest number of its vocalists, but from the Dakota prairies. Miss Fauchald was reared in the little town of Minot, N. D., and it was not until she was somewhat advanced in her musical career that she went for the first time to New York. She had secured her preliminary musical training near her home, and her grounding not only was in vocal music, but also in violin and piano. She was discovered by Mr. Sousa shortly after she had finished her training at the Institute of Musical Art in New York City, and about a year later, she was invited to accompany the band on its tour. Her appearances were so successful that she was reengaged.

YOUTHS OF Y. M. C. A.
FORM LEADER CLASS
Organization of a boys leaders corps for the purpose of getting volunteer help from boys suited to lead gymnasium classes and as a matter of vocational guidance as far as physical education is concerned, is the purpose of a meeting of boys between 13 and 19 years with A. P. Jensen, physical director, at the Y. M. C. A. Thursday evening.

The meeting will open with a cafeteria supper at 6:30, followed by the regular meeting, at which certificates for Bible study examinations will be awarded, plans for monthly and weekly meetings will be discussed and officers elected for the year. Last year there were 12 boys in this group, and this year's group is expected to be larger. The boys are chosen by grading their work, with possible leadership in mind to help on the gymnasium floor, assist in supervising groups in the swimming pool and give help to outside groups such as church clubs and grade school leagues and tournaments.

PATROL FREEDOM-ROD POSTMASTER URGES

Considering the great amount of travel that exists on Freedom-rod of Meade-st road, that thoroughfare is not maintained as well as it might, according to Postmaster W. H. Zuehl, he who passed over that route last week in company with Carrier Robert W. Rohm of Route 5, in connection with the semi-annual inspection of rural routes. That road was once one of the most traveled highways leading out of the city, and is still an important route used extensively by automobile trucks, and probably deserving of being placed on the patrolled road system, he said. The rest of the roads on this route extending into Apple Creek and Freedom are in fair condition. The condition of the mail boxes, though far from being perfect, has improved since the last inspection.

STUDENTS ORGANIZE TO BOOST GRID GAME

Pep Meetings and Parade Will Give Publicity to Battle With LaCrosse

Saturday will be a gala day for Appleton high school when its team meets the LaCrosse high school team, for whether the Appleton team loses or wins, the school has determined to show the townspeople the right way to support a game. The senior class has assumed all the responsibility for the event and appointed committees at a meeting Tuesday morning.

The city has been divided into 50 districts and on Thursday afternoon a one hour ticket selling campaign will be conducted. Volunteers were called for on Tuesday morning and so students offered their time.

A torchlight parade and mass-meeting will take place on Friday night. An effort will be made to have at least 1,000 students in the parade and have as many as possible at the truth to meet the invaders. Each class will enter floats in the parade. Mass-meetings were to be held in the school on Wednesday and Friday.

Everett Roudeshush, president of the senior class, is general chairman. Other chairmen are: Field committee, Eugene Cole; pep committee, Dorothy Morris; committee in charge of the floats, Ruth Hagen; parade committee, Richard Tuttrup.

RURAL SCHOOLS COMPETE IN READING CIRCLE WORK

Pupils of Outagamie-co are again competing with other counties for a record in the reading circle work prescribed by the state department of education. Last year the county ranked high in the percentage of pupils who completed the prescribed list of books during the school year. The county school superintendent is again making reading circle work a requirement for promotion in all grades above the second grade. Many schools are looking for a 100 per cent record in this work.

AMERICAN HORSE SENSE
William Randolph Hearst was in the beginning generally understood to be for La Follette for president. The Hearst newspapers, however, appear to lean to Mr. Coolidge. Arthur Brisbane, who each day writes a first page editorial for the many Hearst publications throughout the country, does not disguise the fact that that is where his sympathies lie. In one of these editorials this week Mr. Brisbane makes this significant comment:

Uncle Joe Cannon says the nation's horse sense will reject Coolidge. Apart from his own satirical "early American" character, the name of Secretary Mellon should get more votes for Coolidge among "horse sense" people than any other. If Mr. Coolidge is elected, Mr. Mellon presumably will remain as Secretary of the treasury, and continue paying off the United States debt, retiring bonds, reducing taxes.

Mr. Mellon has given to the people the ability and earnest hard work of one of the ablest business men in the United States. The people, if they can, ought to retain his services at least until he has paid off a few more of the billions of debt that our Democratic friends, with the best of intentions probably, piled up so cheerfully in the war days.

This, we should say, is the application of horse sense all around, horse-sense by the Hearst newspapers, by Mr. Brisbane and by the people who, he is satisfied, will take a similar view of the election. No one can successfully dispute the fact that Mr. Mellon is one of the best secretaries of the treasury this country has ever had. Through his brains the government has had the very best financial guidance. He has reduced the national debt by some three billion dollars and has cut expenses of federal administration by hundreds and hundreds of millions of dollars, all to the great benefit of the taxpayers and to the enhancement of national prosperity. Twice in his short occupation of the office taxes have been heavily cut. This is the kind of government that ought to appeal to American common sense. It is the kind that gives the result that should be our principal aim in government these days.

Extravagance and inefficiency have been the worst of all the evil productions of politics. They are worse than graft revelations, like those in the oil scandal. Betrayals of public trust are always promptly exposed and stopped, whereas waste and incompetency go on night and day. Administration which weeds out waste and incompetency ought to be supported and applauded by the people. We may depend upon Mr. Coolidge for the honesty and integrity of the government. We may be sure there will be no more scandals of the kind that grew up under Harding while he is president. We may also be sure that the economies that Mr. Mellon has introduced will be continued and that the people will profit by his businesslike conduct of public affairs. If we were to judge government by the standards we apply to business and personal success, we should have no hesitation in concluding that the services of Mr. Coolidge and Mr. Mellon are eminently desirable.

HUMAN NATURE AT ITS WORST
Some people are always "reporting" clerks, porters, deliverymen and streetcar conductors for such alleged offenses as incivility, discourtesy or slow service. In its chronic form, this "reporting" is a symptom of "nerves." All of us have it, at times. Psychologists explain: The individual encounters many disagreeable things in the course of his daily business—things which he must swallow in silence, for fear that a retort would injure his own welfare. Resentment piles up inwardly and finally is vented on some unfortunate Pullman porter or clerk who forgets that we should be fawned over, no matter how nasty we become, and commits the unpardonable sin of neglecting to play up to our vanity. Most of us are Chinese emperors at heart—particularly when we are buying goods or services.

Complaints are necessary at times. But nearly always the complaint is exaggerated in the making. A porter or conductor, as an illustration, silently stands for a lot from the traveling public. If, incensed, he loses his temper even mildly, the complaint to headquarters generally is grossly exaggerated. Why can't people be fair and human in complaining? Why exaggerate? Why lie? The complaint may result in the discharge of an employe driven to distraction and sharp retort by troubles at home—such as illness or financial worries. Would you knowingly throw such a man out of employment? Of course, not. Yet that is exactly what many have done when they have "reported" an employe unfairly.

These clerks and conductors and others who serve us in our buying and traveling are human beings. We would treasure them as warm friends if we knew them intimately. Sensible and Christian are members of the Appreciation League, who "report" good service and courtesy—and overlook most incivility as something that eventually delivers its own punishment by keeping the door from becoming successful or happy.

THE SEX ALIGNMENT
The women's party has decided that there should be more women in congress. No particular reasons are advanced in support of such a proposition except that England and Germany have more women legislators than we, and that we need "the women's point of view" in our law-making.

There, unfortunately, is where the women's party indicates a lack of knowledge of what is meant by public service and intended by the enfranchisement clause.

No woman should be elected to any legislative, judicial or executive place merely because she is a woman. No man is elected because he is a man. It isn't a matter of sex, but it is a matter of reputed or real capacity to serve the public regardless of skirt or trousers. Nor is "the women's point of view" important—because it cannot exist. Legislation involves right against wrong, the need of good against evil, of benefit to the whole country as against the reverse. There can be no distinctive or exclusive point of view among women as women in such case any more than among men, and there never will be.

Always, in matters of official life—in politics—women must work and think and vote just as men do and be divided by their varying mental attitudes just as men are. It is impossible for them, as it is for men, to be always in agreement on all subjects and they cannot make the public service a matter of one gender alone. The sex alignment or attitude gets its advocates and sponsors nowhere at all.

Neither is it true that legislative bodies are materially improved by the mere presence of women therein, for not all women are necessarily good and competent. Something far more potent than that is needed, as, for instance, intelligence, character and the capacity for wise service. Only by and through such attributes is officialdom made better. Trick of nature or mode of dress has nothing to do with it. There is a big place in politics and civil service for women but as fellow citizens, not as a tribute to sex.

NEGLECT.
It isn't so easy to do little things at the time when they ought to be done. And it isn't so hard, as experience sings after doing is really begun. Too often we're willing to wait till tomorrow, too often we simply neglect. In putting things off it is trouble we borrow, 'cause waiting means doing is wrecked.

A rung in a rocker has worked itself loose and it ought to be fixed right away. You realize that, but you feel what's the use, when the job can be done any day.

The lock on the door doesn't work as it should and the tap has a leak that is slow. How easy to fix them if only you would, but how easy to just let them go.

You'll find you will kill off much sorrow and stew and you'll find that such killing will pay, if you just don't put off till tomorrow what you could easily fix up today.

These are the days the fatted calf is returning from his vacation tanned by the prodigal sun.

The modern girl has simply decided her fate can either be her fortune or her misfortune.

The burning question will soon be "How much per ton."

A bean king recently disappeared. Maybe some war veteran is chasing him.

DAMPNESS.
This time of year, somehow, there are always many queries concerning damp basements, damp cellars, damp living rooms and damp bedrooms. One might say this is the season of dampness. "I can't sleep in this room," protested the tenant, "it's too damp." "Too damp what?" demanded the frantically landlady.

Dampness seems to worry us but little until the weather begins to turn cold. Then we discover how very damp the place is and wonder whether it will give us rheumatiz or consumption or something.

For comfort and the preservation of food, clothing, furniture and household fittings it is natural that we should endeavor to keep a dry house, realizable in the business of keeping it well, and to that extent the avoidance of dampness is a health matter. But peace of mind is also a factor of health, and it contributes toward peace of mind to know that dampness, however uncomfortable or troublesome it may be to the householder is of no practical importance from the sanitary point of view. That is to say, dampness is not a cause of any disease. True, our forefathers imagined it brought disease, just as they imagined "sewer gas" carried pestilence and decomposing animal or vegetable matter "bred" germs, and so became sources of epidemics.

A skilled carpenter gave this advice for overcoming dampness in a basement. "It generally happens on an outside wall. You must strip the wall for two feet from each cutting then nailing strips of one inch stuff in these cuttings from ceiling to floor, having taken off the washboards above the floor. Then put laths over the strips and plaster the wall anew, and you will never be troubled with damp walls again. I have often remedied such trouble in basement rooms this way."

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.

A claims it is harmful to go out for a mile hike on a cold, cold winter day. B claims that it is beneficial even if wet and cold, provided the hiker is properly clothed and doesn't get the feet wet. (R. G. S.)

Answer—And if I may enter as C, I believe it is not harmful even if the hiker forgets to wear anything or gets his feet wet.

What food is good for nerve? Is smoking good to answer? (W. J. F.)

Answer—You probably mean courage. I can mention no particular food. Narcotics, including certain drugs alcohol and tobacco, all tend in varying degrees to give Dutch courage—that is, they momentarily diminish fear or quiet anxiety. A man resorting to any of these drugs betrays his weakness—he lacks the courage to face things himself (Copyright, National Newspaper Service)

OCTOBER BLUES
Among his other sheaves October brings, A sheaf of bills that take a heavy toll, The bill for rugs and household furnishings, And oh! the dreadful bill for winter coal.

Ripon undergraders are singing, "I've got the Lawrence blues." After Saturday's game it will be Lawrence singing that the Blues have got what they went out to get.

And somehow or other the strains that have been drifting hither from Beloit weren't exactly the opposite of funeral music either.

After that game in Iowa City last Saturday the Hawkeyes were groaning, "Oh! Oh! Weeb!" Now let some of your German students at Lawrence translate that.

Folks around here pronounce it "Love-a," which leads one to prompt, how much does the Iowan owe?

A certain Appleton man is well informed on current events, but is a little lame on politics. After seeing the pictures of those two millionaire convicts on the P. FAMOUS FAIRY TALES
"Not guilty."
"Prohibition enforcement."
"Glad to see you."

"It was his fault."
"Plenty of room inside."
"Love, honor and obey."
"The brakes were weak."
"No man can fill my job."
"I cannot live without her."
"I will pay you back tomorrow."

Gosh, that last one sounds familiar. Did it come from us, or did we hear it from some one else?

You never really know a man until you've slept on the same pillow table with him during a convention, confides Pete.

We never knew a defeated candidate, for nobody feels more humiliated than he. But once a man for whose defeat he had prayed, met us on the street, his face having an expression of untold woe but struggling hard to pass off the affair as a joke. We tried desperately to commiserate him, but he blushed for him, he loosened something within us that was aching to explode. We laughed in his face. And so we lost another friend. ROLLO.

World's News Told In Brief, Simple Style

BY CHARLES P. STEWART
Perhaps the world's best fighters, disunion has kept the Mohammedans weak for centuries.

In the last few years they have shown signs of returning strength. They might have recovered it under Kemal Pasha if he had been a religious enthusiast. He was not.

Kemal staged Turkey's comeback. The sultan was the Mohammedans' religious leader. When Kemal threw him out as sultan, he threw him out as a religious leader, too. In speaking Turkey a republic, Kemal provided for its government, but he left Mohammedanism headless as a religion.

HUSSEIN IBN ALI
This just suited England. England controlled the Red Sea strip of coast called the Hedjaz, of which Hussein Ibn Ali claimed to be king.

The English idea was to back Hussein and make him the Mohammedans' religious leader also. As the Mohammedans' religious leader she figured he would have great influence with Moslems everywhere. England has many Moslem subjects and there are many more she likes to keep under her sway. Through Hussein she could do it, she believed.

THE SULTAN OF NEJD
It worked pretty well for a while. Then Ibn Saud appeared. He was a Bedouin chieftain known as Sultan of Nejd. He had a ragtag army, not very strong, but he was a fanatical Moslem and so were all his men. Mohammedans are easy to "enthuse." They swarmed to Ibn's banner. He declared war on Hussein and beat him in every fight. Now he has taken Mecca, the Moslems' "holy city," chased Hussein off the throne and proclaimed himself religious leader of all Islam.

If this means a Mohammedan revival—as it may—trouble is in sight for the whole world.

ELECTION
With election less than two weeks off the presidential campaign still is far tamer than many less important campaigns have been. The people seem interested, judging from the way they've registered, but there are no fireworks if neither Coolidge, Davis nor La Follette gets a clean-cut majority, however, it's safe to count on excitement enough when the fight gets into the electoral college, and probably into Congress a little later on.

IN ENGLAND
The English campaign started as a triangular contest, too—Conservatives, Liberals and Laborites. But Conservatives and Liberals seem to be clubbing together against the Labor party. It's much such a campaign as the American one would be if the conservative Republicans and Democrats combined against the Progressives, including the middle-of-the-roads and the progressive elements from both old-line groups.

Mystery Why Birds Migrate
(From The Rochester (N. Y.) Herald)
Great flocks of birds rising in regular formation from fields of stubble, or settling on the catails of a marsh, remind the farmers and vacationists that the north will soon be no place for delicate constitutions. The sparrows, the crows and a few gulls may continue to hunt their meals about the countryside, but most of the other birds soon will be on their way toward more generous latitudes. The annual rush of travel southward is beginning in birdland.
It is one of the constant and abiding mysteries of nature that the majority of wild birds migrate seasonally, with almost the regularity of the earth's revolutions. There are variations, to be sure, but they are the more mystifying, for they appear to give evidence of a foreknowledge of the weather. When the spring comes early, so do the migrant feathered hosts. When winter nips at the heels of August, the summer resting places are abandoned weeks earlier than usual, and the flocks move southward rapidly, even though the days may still be warm. Usually the migration is prophetic of weather changes, for when the birds take wing early at the close of summer, the breath of winter is felt soon afterward in the northern lake plains.
Just why the birds should go south when there is no lack of food to be had in the northern fields is a puzzle to those naturalists who believe migration is a question of food supply. In the tropics there is food aplenty. Having reached Central America or Brazil, therefore, why should the northern birds ever return to the cold climates from which they flee every autumn? It cannot be food alone that drives them irresistibly northward in the spring and southward in the fall, for they leave a land of plenty in the south in the spring, and a northern land still overflowing with bird food in the fall. Possibly the future may reveal many of the secrets of nature, but until mankind is able to read the minds of birds, it is not likely that science will be able to wholly to explain the great mystery of migration.

300 Applaud Local Girl In Concert

Miss Rose Dohearty Sings in Recital in Lawrence Chapel

About 300 persons attended the program given Wednesday evening in Lawrence Memorial chapel, evincing a great deal of interest in the career of Miss Rose Dohearty, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. F. P. Dohearty, who appeared for the first time on the Appleton concert stage. Miss Dohearty shared her performance with Mark Oster, her teacher, who has been connected with the Chicago Civic Opera company for some time, and has been connected with the Ravinia concerts which have brought fame and prestige to the music world of Chicago. Miss Dohearty has been studying with Mr. Oster for about a year and a half, and has appeared in concerts in Chicago.

The audience, especially because of the fact that Miss Dohearty is a local girl, responded warmly to the songs in French, Italian, German and English which were presented by the two artists. A greater number of German selections were chosen because of the appealing music which characterizes them.

Mrs. Elva Smolk Sprague, who accompanied the singers, formerly was an Appleton girl. She studied under Professor Shepherd, who is well known in Appleton.

The concert was sponsored by the Wednesday Musicales.

Mrs. Youmans First Of Trio Of Speakers

After many years as assistant editor of the Waukesha Freeman, as prominent clubwoman, as suffragist leader and as regent of Wisconsin normal schools, Mrs. Theodora W. Youmans, who speaks the Vocational school on Friday evening under the direction of the civics department of Appleton Womens club, is a Republican by conviction. It happens that she also is a Republican by inheritance if there is such a thing.

Mrs. Youmans is the first of the representatives of the three major political parties who have been asked here by the civics department of Appleton Womens club to speak to the women voters. The club steers a non-partisan course in politics by inviting all the parties to send representatives. The leaders of the club as individuals are divided in their party allegiance but as a club are doing everything in their power to see that all women use their votes and use them intelligently.

Mrs. Youmans will speak Friday night and Mrs. E. R. Bowler of Shiocton will represent the Democratic camp the following Friday evening. Every effort is being made to have Zona Gale represent the independent candidates, but because of the great territory which she is covering for the LaFollette headquarters, no data has been set. It is possible that she will come to Appleton the Monday before election when she is on her way to her home in Portage to vote.

Church Will Use Movies At Services

Congregational Sermon Sunday Evening Will Be Illustrated by Noted Film

Carrying out a plan which is becoming somewhat general in the larger church of the country, First Congregational church will begin a series of religious services Sunday night in which motion pictures will be used to emphasize the sermon.

"The Passing of the Third Floor Back," with Forbes Robertson as the chief actor, is the picture which will be used for the first of these gatherings next Sunday evening. Dr. H. E. Peabody, pastor, will preach a 10-minute sermon, the message of which the picture will elaborate.

Doors are to be opened at 7 o'clock and there will be an organ recital from 7:15 to 7:30 by LaVahn Maesch. The regular service of worship then opens with Dr. Peabody in immediate charge. Music will be furnished by a vocal quartet directed by Dean Carl J. Waterman.

Ushering, filming of the pictures and other duties are to be handled by the Young Married Peoples group of the church, of which A. H. Millen is president.

No children under 12 years are to be admitted unless a parent is with them. The meetings will be conducted as strictly devotional the same as any other service of the church. No admission is to be charged and the adult public will be invited to attend.

SHAPE FOR FRAY
WITH LAPHAM TEAMFootball Players Show Vast Improvement in Two Weeks of Practice

Kaukauna — Football fans who turn out next Sunday afternoon will be given a real treat when the Kaukauna American Legion football squad trots out on the turf to take up its battle with the Milwaukee Laphams, the only team which has defeated the legion in at least three years. The coaches have promised to show up an organization of 11 men that will put the legionaires' previous performance this season in the background.

A few changes may be made but it will be in the condition and pep of the old players which is expected to make the difference in Sunday's Kaukauna team. The squad in general has been sadly out of condition this season and it has seemed to take longer than usual this year to work the gang into shape. Now, however, after a week of rest and with thorough drilling during the two weeks period, the coaches are confident that they will turn out a nifty combination which will be able to battle anything.

Several new men have been added to the squad and at least 33 players are expected in suits Sunday. Dan Reardon who at one time was the legion's only reliable fullback, has returned to the fold. Les Smith, who was educated toe is back and Harjies of Little Chute and Wagner of Appleton, both of whom have already plodded behind the legion line, are reported working with the squad. Billie Galmbacher, who has been plugging a pretty big hole in the line is limping quite badly and may be the only player not able to play Sunday.

Fans who saw the two teams clash last year voted it one of the best of the year. Teams which had played here previously had earned the legion the Laphams were exceptionally "dirty" players but the Milwaukeeans proved the lie by putting up the cleanest and most sportsman-like fight ever played on the local grounds.

OUTLINE PROGRAM FOR
H. S. ASSEMBLY PERIODS

Kaukauna—On every school day there is a period of 20 minutes during the class schedule in the high school when there are no classes in session. That period is called the general assembly period and all students are at that time assembled in the two large study rooms in the new high school. A definite plan of procedure to take up the time for the day has been prepared and will be followed the rest of the term.

On Monday there is general singing in the west assembly while a teacher is to talk in the east assembly. On Tuesday the situation is reversed while Wednesday will usually be a study period in each room. One teacher will be responsible for supervision in each room. Thursday's assembly period will be devoted to literary programs given by students of the English classes and pep meetings and enthusiasm demonstrations will take up the period Friday. The daily period is from 10 o'clock until 10:20.

CREVIERE CHOSEN HEAD OF LOCAL LEGION POST

Kaukauna — Archie Creviere was elected post commander of Kaukauna post of the American legion at its meeting Tuesday evening in the legion club house. A large crowd attended the meeting. A social hour and lunch followed the election. Other officers are George Heindel, first vice commander; G. S. Brenzel, second vice commander; Bert Brenziske, adjutant; George Dogot, finance officer; George Egan, service officer; Lester J. Brenzel and Edward Egan were elected delegates to the county council with George Heindel and George Dogot alternates.

50 STUDENTS WILL GO
WITH TEAM TO NEW LONDON

Kaukauna—At least 50 high school students have decided to follow their football team to New London Saturday. The notion of the students was voluntary on their part, but school officials expected to take the matter before the entire student body Thursday since so many showed inclination to make the trip. A search is being made now for owners of good sized trucks who will not charge too much to make the trip. A few local men have already been eliminated from consideration because the students thought their price too high.

SCOUTING DISCUSSED
AT ROTARY LUNCHEON

Kaukauna — One of the largest crowds of the year attended the weekly luncheon and meeting of Kaukauna Rotary club Wednesday afternoon. The Rev. P. O. Ketcher of Appleton, representative of the Boy Scouts, was the guest speaker. E. M. Charlesworth, Jr., of this city, also gave a talk in which he outlined scout work as carried out by Rotary. The Rotary club will be hosts to the high school squad at dinner next Wednesday noon. R. M. Radach is in charge of arrangements.

Waupaca high school basketball squad was called out for practice this week by Coach Henry Pautz. About 30 candidates are out to make the team. Preliminary practice shows that some of the last year regulars will make the new candidates hustle to get a place on the team. A few class and preliminary games are to be arranged to develop the boys before the heavy schedule is to be played. Coach Pautz requested the boys to sign a training pledge which will require clean habits and regular living. It is much to his satisfaction that nearly all candidates have signed that pledge.

Special to Post-Crescent
New London—The football game on the New London gridiron between New London and Kaukauna on Saturday will be one of the biggest, well attended and hardest fought games of the season.

On Wednesday Kaukauna wrote to the local Athletic association for 100 student tickets. This means that Kaukauna will have at least 100 representatives on the field at 2:30 Saturday afternoon when the game starts.

The two teams are quite evenly matched this year, although last season the red and white whopped its opponents from Kaukauna.

Couch Koten is putting his boys through all-the paces of the game in long, steady practice each night, and the red and white team, a formidable machine, expects to come out victorious in its fourth contest of the season, having won two shutouts and a 20 to 14 score in the last three weeks.

Pep meetings are being held in the high school every morning, and the school yell and songs are being practiced diligently, so that the local squad will have plenty of support.

I was badly ruptured while lifting a trunk several years ago. Doctors said my only hope of cure was an operation. Trusses did me no good. Finally I got hold of something that quickly and completely cured me. Years have passed and the rupture has never returned, although I am doing hard work as a carpenter. There was no operation, no lost time, no trouble. I have nothing to sell, but will give full information about how you may find a complete cure without operation, if you write to me. Eugene M. MASONIC LODGE ALL SET TO START BUILDING PLANS

Childs and Smith Engaged to Design New Temple to Be Built at Neenah

Neenah—At the meeting of Kan Lodge Monday evening the building committee composed of C. B. Clark, chairman, E. J. Lachmann, Mayor George E. Sande, J. W. Hewitt and E. C. Andersen was instructed to proceed with building the proposed new Masonic temple. The instructions were given following the report of the soliciting committee.

Childs & Smith of Chicago, who planned the National Manufacturers bank building and the First National bank building, have been engaged as architects and arrived in Neenah on Wednesday evening to consult the building committee. A colonial lodge type of building to cost approximately $50,000 is under consideration.

The site opposite the public library on Wisconsin ave. was purchased several months ago and has been paid for. The amount of funds secured by the soliciting committee was such that a bonded indebtedness on the structure will be smaller in proportion to the size of the city and the amount of the investment than that of the new Masonic temple at Appleton. The proposed new building will be used for lodge purposes exclusively.

POLICE NAB 40 VIOLATORS OF ARTERIAL STOP LAW

STOP WARNINGS TO DRIVERS WHO PASS BY SIGNS

Police Continue Crusade Against Violators of City Ordinance

Wasted warnings on hundreds of automobile drivers culminated in a police crusade against violators of the city arterial highway ordinance Wednesday afternoon. The result of the activities of the vigilance squad was that 40 arterial highway offenders were expected to toe the line in front of Judge A. M. Spencer's desk in municipal court at 2 o'clock Thursday afternoon.

All of the drivers were arrested between 2 and 6 o'clock with three police officers on guard. The officers were continuing the warfare on Thursday. One officer reported that violations came so fast that he had no time to check them all down. Consequently he arrested only those who drove right through the line without having time to stop. Those who made a mere bluff of stopping. Another officer reported that he arrested every driver who failed to come to a "dead stop," as the ordinance required. The result was that many drivers began to argue over the possibility of bringing the car to a "dead stop." Many drivers merely shifted to second gear, slowed down and then shifted back to high gear.

ALL LOCAL DRIVERS

Patrolman Herbert Kapu was stationed at Lawrence and Pearl sts. Patrolman Bliss Carnes was stationed at North and Oneida and Detective Sergeant John Duval kept vigil at North and Rankin sts. Most of the drivers were residents of Appleton or nearby communities, and none of them were tourists.

Detective Duval arrested the following: Dewey Williams and Ed Hamann; Kimbly Joseph Mermen; Kaukauna; Ed Vandenberg; Neenah; H. J. Bergacker, 330 North-st.; Oscar Bauernfeld, driving a Bretschneider truck; M. Lless, A. L. Franke; Joseph Kufner, 1437 College ave., Appleton.

Those arrested by Patrolman Carnes were: Earl Plamen, Apple Creek; S. H. Shatuck, Neenah; William Meltz, Route 2, Black Creek; J. I. Cohen, 881 Mead-st.; Henry Crowe, 1304 Second-st.; Al Larson, Broken-w-p; Barney Miller, 1108 Gilmore-st.; W. J. Abbe, 1074 Ryan-st.; Marjorie Neller, 650 Washington-st.; Ed Kaminsky, 532 Summer-st., Appleton.

Patrolman Kapu arrested Richard Abel, Seymour; Anton Umeki, Ernest Burkhardt and Frank Scheffler, Menasha; C. U. Smith and Miss Gear, Neenah; J. H. Riemer, Oshkosh; Joseph Kostke, Little Chute; L. P. Boyer, Milwaukee; Marie Westphal, Combined Locks; Frank Wilson and Alfred Roessler, Hortonville; Otto Kleimair, Manitowish; Carl Johnson, 771 Durkee-st.; Herman Kostke, 1051 North Division-st.; Jack Bergacker, 330 North-st.; Clarence Ness, 665 Drew-st.; Miss Weber, 1066 Second-st., Appleton.

KAUKAUNA SCOUTS GIVEN H. S. GYM

Keicher Is Promised Help of Educators as Followup of Address at Rotary

Boy scouts of Kaukauna will have use of the high school gymnasium for drill and one of the schoolrooms for meetings through arrangements made by J. P. Cavanaugh, superintendent of schools. This information was given by O. Keicher, valley boy scout executive following his address at the Kaukauna Rotary club luncheon Wednesday noon at Kaukauna hotel on scouting as a phase of boys' work.

Mr. Cavanaugh declared that the school will permit the scouts to use its facilities and they will have access to shower baths and possibly be provided lockers for their equipment.

Assistance of men of the school organization in conducting the boy scout work also was assured by the superintendent. Those who will cooperate in organizing and maintaining troops are O. G. Dryer, principal of the high school; Herbert Ludwig, W. T. Sullivan and A. T. Hudson of the vocational school.

Mr. Keicher's address to the Rotarians reviewed the essentials of a boys' work program and mentioned how scouting fits into such a program because it teaches good citizenship, obedience and outdoor life as well as giving a new meaning to a boy's education. He was requested to address the club later outlining ways in which the Rotarians can help Kaukauna do its share in the valley council.

BOY SCOUTS WILL STIR VOTERS WITH FLOOD OF POSTERS

Distribution to Cities of Fox River Valley Will Take Place Saturday

Distribution of posters for the get-out-the-vote campaign by the boy scouts will take place Saturday in Appleton, Neenah, Menasha, Kimberly, Little Chute and Kaukauna, according to plans made by P. O. Keicher, valley executive.

Posters are to be placed in windows and conspicuous places where they will attract the attention of the voting public. They not only contain a rebuke for the indifference of the people but also display pictures of Coolidge, Davis and La Follette, the presidential nominees with a message from each urging everybody to exercise the right of citizenship.

Uncle Sam and a boy scout are pictured as holding a large sign on which the decline in the percentage of voters is shown. The balloting for elections has dwindled yearly until in 1920 only 49 per cent of the eligible voters of the country voted the polls.

This is the second step in the campaign. The first was the distribution of windshield stickers for the chamber of commerce, in which there is an appeal for a big vote Nov. 4.

Bell ringing will be the next order issued to the boy scouts. Each will be assigned a territory in which he is to visit every home, and make a personal request to the people to turn out election day. He will have literature to leave at each place, in which is contained his message.

The entire movement is nonpartisan in character and is part of a campaign among 687,121 boy scouts of the United States, according to a statement on the poster signed by James E. West, national chief scout executive.

GREEN BAY HI-Y BOYS ENTERTAINED AT DINNER

Twenty-one members of the Green Bay Hi-Y club accompanied by A. F. Grimm, general secretary of the new Green Bay Y. M. C. A., were entertained by the Appleton Hi-Y club at a banquet at 6:30 Wednesday evening at the Y. M. C. A.

Talks were given by W. E. Smith, chairman of the boys work committee, Harold Zuehlke, last year's Hi-Y president, H. A. Dittmore, club advisor, and Mr. Grimm. Everett Round played a piano selection. Songs led by Mr. Dittmore concluded the entertainment. The program came to an early close to permit the Green Bay boys, who had motored to Appleton, to make the return trip early.

GIRL SCOUT TROOP WILL HIKE TO LAKE COTTAGE

Shamrock troop of the Girl Scouts will hike to Appleton Womans club cottage, Happy Hut, at Lake Winnebago Friday afternoon after school and will remain all night, returning Saturday afternoon. The troop leader, Miss Eleanor Halls, will accompany them. Saturday noon the scouts will do outdoor cooking, learning new dishes that may be cooked over an open fire.

Personal request to the people to turn out election day. He will have literature to leave at each place, in which is contained his message.

The entire movement is nonpartisan in character and is part of a campaign among 687,121 boy scouts of the United States, according to a statement on the poster signed by James E. West, national chief scout executive.

CONSIDER LARGER PRIZES FOR BIRDS AT POULTRY SHOW

Association Wants to Interest Exhibitors Living at a Distance

A new policy whereby the annual poultry show in Appleton might attract some of the best show birds in the middle west was discussed at a meeting of Appleton Poultry and Pet Stock association in the George Loos harness shop on Appleton-st. Wednesday evening.

The plan calls for reducing the number of smaller prizes on individual fowls and awarding several grand prizes that would make it worth while for fanciers from more distant points to exhibit at the Appleton show. It was suggested that first prize of $100, a second prize of $75 and a third prize of $50 be awarded for the best exhibit of groups of about 12 fowls each. Smaller prizes would be offered for the best pens of the different types of birds and for individual types of various kinds.

No definite action was taken on the proposed policy, as it was thought better to defer it until another meeting.

PUT UP SIGNS TO WARN MOTORISTS NOT TO MAKE TURNS

Drivers Will Have Little Excuse for Violating Traffic Ordinance

Signs warning motorists of certain traffic rules will be installed at intersections on College-ave, according to P. M. Connelly, city engineer.

The new traffic ordinance adopted by the common council last week prohibits left turns at the corner of College-ave and Oneida-st., and also prohibits "U" turns, or complete turns on all intersections on College-ave from Walnut-st to Drew-st. The last two intersections are included in the restricted area.

The "No Complete Turn" signs to be ordered by the street department will be fastened on the arterial posts but to face the opposite way, and the "No Left Turn" plates will be fastened on the automatic signal posts at College-ave and Oneida-st. This arrangement saves the trouble of putting up more posts at the intersections. Arterial highway signs have been removed at the College-ave and Oneida-st intersection. All along arterial highway posts on the northeast corners have been removed and the signs fastened on the new street sign standards.

ON THE SCREEN

CHRISTINE OF THE HUNGRY HEART

"Splendid direction and photography keep the story from getting tiresome and make Christine of the Hungry Heart an interesting movie." That's the way Robert Nangel, movie critic for the Chicago Tribune, described the picture which will be shown Thursday and Friday night at the Elita theater. The picture now is being shown at the Chicago theater said to be the most beautiful playhouse in the world.

"If there are any sentimental ladies who don't believe that marital history repeats itself and that successful wedded life has more of prose than of poetry, they'll probably be convinced upon seeing 'Christine of the Hungry Heart,'" Miss Nagle said in her review.

"It's a rather languid tale of a woman who learned that, after the honeymoon, a wife must be satisfied to have just a plain, ordinary husband, even though she may yearn for an attentive lover."

"This Kathleen Norris heroine longed for the fairy tales sort of romance, but her twentieth century husbands didn't exactly fill the bill. It is fortunate that Florence Vidor was cast in the part of the rather silly Christine, for she plays it with understanding and with a fine touch which saves the picture from the cheesiness which would have befallen it at the hands of a less skilled actress."

MANY SCREEN STARS IN "RACING FOR LIFE"

When "Racing For Life" comes to the New Elita theatre Friday and Saturday, motion picture fans will have the opportunity to see many favorite screen stars in a mile a minute speed action drama that will thrill them from beginning to end. Can't Spoon In Park With Lights Out

(This is the fifth of a series of articles explaining the new traffic ordinance passed by the common council. It is a continuation of the article published yesterday concerning the rules for parking cars.)

Petting parties in the parks are the target of one clause of the city's new traffic ordinance which prohibits machines from being driven into any park and the lights turned off. The law reads: "No vehicle shall be left standing or parked upon any of the established roadways in any park after dark without the headlights and the rear lights being on, except during hand concerts and other entertainments, when the lights may be turned off on roadways surrounding the bandstand pavilion, or any other place where such band concert or entertainment is being held."

It is also stipulated that no car may be parked at any time in any park on the grass. It must be left on the established roadway unless the park board grants permission otherwise. No right whatever is given those who would display automobiles on the streets for sale purposes. This provision was included when it was found in a survey of the parking shortage that space which might be used by shoppers was lined with used cars which stood outside of their garages all day.

All parking on College-ave between Drew and Richmond-sts must be strictly within the lines painted on the pavements, the ordinance says. On all other streets cars must be parallel with the curb, not more than six inches away from it and at least four feet away from other machines parked there. No parking whatever is allowed on streets less than 18 feet from curb to curb.

Other requirements are that no car shall be parked within 300 feet of the scene where the fire department is fighting a fire and at no point on any street, alley or highway in such a way as to interfere with free passage of vehicles.

Werrenrath Opens Annual Community Artists Course

Ewald Werrenrath, the eminent American baritone who will sing in Lawrence Memorial chapel on Nov. 18, the first number of the Community artists series, started his artistic successes in grand opera.

He made his debut in Pagliacci and achieved his greatest reputation in Faust. The mail ticket sale for the community course is now on and it is said tickets are going rapidly.

Werrenrath's history in music is unusual as he was one of the very few men ever invited to sing an opera part. He did not seek the engagement. He had never been on the stage in his life and had never really considered it. When Gatti Casazza asked him to join the company an extraordinary honor, he accepted it because he thought it would be interesting for a time and would help broaden him as an artist. He took a few months coaching with the veteran Victor Manuel and made his debut as Silvio in "Pagliacci." Shortly after he appeared in the very important part of Valentin in "Faust." His success at his debut was notable but his first appearance in "Faust" caused a sensation. W. J. Henderson in the New York Sun said that few had ever approached the rich fluent quality of Mr. Werrenrath's singing, the fine color of his tone, and the clarity of his diction and Richard Aldrich in the Times said that his work was "the finest example of pure singing since the days of the De Reszkes and the stars of Giau."

But the call of the concert stage was too strong for the young artist and he devotes most of his time to such work. He finds the atmosphere of the concert hall much more congenial and there is an ever shifting variety of scene and audience in concert work which is very fascinating.

FOUR ELEMENTS GO TO MAKE UP PERFECT "AD"

J. E. Murphy, Advertising manager for Geenan's Drygood Co., gave a talk on advertising to the high school Monday and told how good an advertisement must be to get results. He demonstrated institutional and merchandising advertisements with cuts which he had clipped from various newspapers. Four slogans which must be elements of a fever ad are: Attract the Eye, Arouse the Interest, Move the Judgment and Open the Purse.

Mr. Murphy spoke briefly about the amount of advertising used in large industries of the present day. The dry goods industry uses the greatest percentage of advertising which is 30 per cent, and the tobacco industry uses 8 per cent, which is the lowest. The sincere, truthful, specific qualities of ads were particularly stressed, and Mr. Murphy concluded his talk with a quotation from Thomas Hughes which is: There is no approach to success for anyone, except by faithful work, day by day on our own threshold.

How to Make Pine Cough Syrup at Home

Has no equal for prompt results. Takes but a moment to prepare, and saves you about $2.

Pine is used in nearly all prescriptions and remedies for coughs. The reason is that pine contains several elements that have a remarkable effect in soothing and healing the membranes of the throat and chest. Pine cough syrups are combinations of pine and syrup. The "syrup" part is usually plain sugar syrup.

To make the best pine cough remedy that money can buy, put 2½ ounces of Pine in a pint bottle, and fill up with home-made sugar syrup. Or you can use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup. Either way, you make a full pint—more than you can buy ready-made for three times the money. It is pure, good and tastes very pleasant. You can feel the take hold of a cough or cold in a way that makes business. The cough may be dry, hoarse and tight, or may be persistently loose from the formation of phlegm. The color of the mucus—the mucus membrane—and this Pine and Syrup combination will stop it usually in 24 hours or less. Splendid, too, for bronchial asthma, hoarseness, or any ordinary throat ailment.

Pine is a highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, and is famous the world over for its prompt effect on colds, coughs, and croup.

Beware of substitutes. Ask your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pine" with directions, and don't accept anything else. Guarantees to give complete satisfaction or money refunded. The Pine Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

Cooking School Again Attracts Women Who Would Improve Skill

Armed with paper and pencil as a preparation to jot down recipes and suggestions, an exceptionally large group of women that filled the assembly room of the vocational school to its capacity attended the second session of the Post-Crescent cooking school which is conducted in cooperation with the Corn Products Refining company of Chicago and merchants of Appleton.

The women show an intensive interest and are eager to obtain the recipes. For Mrs. Margaret Brown, the instructor, teaches dishes that are simple and practical. She said that she wishes to demonstrate and prepare dishes that the women will go home and make, not some fancy delicacy that is difficult and seldom served by the average American housewife.

After the class is over it is usual to find a large number of the women surrounding the tables, asking questions about the dishes and eager to gain new hints.

Wednesday afternoon the women were especially interested in the recipe for baking powder biscuits. Mrs. Brown first told them how to make the biscuits with baking powder and then showed them how to substitute soda for the making powder. The women demonstrated their interest in the process by asking many questions. They were also interested in the newest methods of cooking and time saving suggestions.

Thursday afternoon's program was to include discussion on quick and easy methods of cake making and demonstration on cakes. Women who enter the cake contest that is being conducted in connection with the school are to have their cakes in by 2 o'clock Friday afternoon at the vocational school. Valuable prizes will be awarded.

Here are the recipes that Mrs. Brown demonstrated Wednesday afternoon:

Pie Crust
1-2 cups flour, 1-2 teaspoon salt, 1-2 teaspoon baking powder, 6 tablespoons mazzola, 2 tablespoons water. Sift dry ingredients and add the water and mazzola, and mix with a knife.

Pumpkin Pie
1 cup pumpkin, 1-2 cup sugar, 1 teaspoon ginger, 1 teaspoon salt, 2 egg yolks, 1-2 cup milk, 2 egg whites beaten stiff.

Mix in the order given and fold in the egg whites. Place in lined pan and bake ten minutes in hot oven (450) and 40 minutes in moderate oven, 375 degrees. Serve cold with karo topping.

Karo Topping
1-2 cup white karo, 1 unbeaten egg white, 1 tablespoon powdered sugar, 1-2 teaspoon lemon flavoring.

Place in top of double boiler over boiling water and heat six minutes while cooking over flame. Add the deep oiled pan. Bake ten minutes in 450 degree oven. Pour over the dumplings which have slightly browned the following boiling sauce:

Sauce
1-2 cups sugar, 3 tablespoons mazzola, 3 tablespoons flour, 2 cups water, dash mace. Boil and use as directed.

Soda Biscuits
2 cups flour, 1 teaspoon salt, 3-5 teaspoon soda, 2-1-2 teaspoons baking powder, 3 tablespoons mazzola, 3-4 sour milk.

HONOR WOODROOM FORCE FOR LONG SAFETY RECORD

J. C. Kimberly Presents $5 Bills to Men With 100-Year
Safety Score

(Special to Post-Crescent)
Kimberly—The yellow division of the safety contest at Kimberly-Clark papermill put on a safety program Monday noon in the Kimberly clubhouse. The stage was trimmed with Halloween colors, orange and black. Owls and other such figures adorned the walls of the stage. The decorating was in charge of Miss Mary Baker.

The first number on the program was an instrumental duet by Edward Nelson and Charles Tubbs. This was followed by a safety talk by J. C. Kimberly, whose subject was the 100-year safety record made by the Kimberly woodroom. Mr. Kimberly stated that the woodroom of this mill is the safest of any similar department of Kimberly-Clark mills. About 64 men are employed there.

A safety first tableau came next, followed by several songs by L. Theln, L. Loose and L. Smith. Five silhouette pictures of men belonging to the yellow division were brought on the stage. Any man of the mill is eligible to guess and write down the names of the five men and hand them in at the Kimberly employment office. The pictures are on display in front of the mill. The contest will run for several days. The first man handing in the correct list of names will be awarded a prize. The winner will be made known by the end of this week.

Charles Tubbs appeared next in a monologue number and in musical selections, in company with Edward Nelson and Lloyd Lang. During this time Mr. Kimberly awarded the $5 bills which are given for a 100-year safety record. Safety watch fobs were awarded by Peter Vandervelden, chairman of the greens.

Announcement has been made of a membership campaign which will be conducted by the Kimberly club Oct. 29, 30, and 31. A quota of 709 members has been set.

A meeting was held Monday evening in Kimberly clubhouse by the Kimberly Dramatic club.

A party was held Friday afternoon, Oct. 17, in honor of the eighth birthday anniversary of Miss Bernadine Langenberg. The party was attended by eight girls.

RHEUMATISM LEAVES YOU FOREVER

So Says James H. Allen, Who Drove Out Rheumatic Poisons After Being Crippled for Years.

Mr. James H. Allen, of 26 Forbes-st., Rochester, N. Y., suffered for years with rheumatism. Many times this terrible disease left him helpless and unable to work.

He finally decided, after years of ceaseless study, that no one can be free from rheumatism until the accumulated impurities, commonly called uric acid deposits, were dissolved in the joints and muscles and expelled from the body.

With this idea in mind he consulted physicians, made experiments and finally compounded a prescription that quickly and completely banished every sign and symptom of rheumatism from his system.

He freely gave his discovery, which he called Allen's, to others who took it, with what might be called marvelous success. After years of urging he decided to let sufferers everywhere know about his discovery through the newspapers.

"The blessed relief this marvelous prescription quickly gives has made for it thousands of friends," says Volgt's Drug Store and Schmitz Bros. Co., who have been appointed agent in your city. It is Mr. Allen's own discovery.

Appleton High Will Fight LaCrosse In Non-Conference Tilt

East Green Bay Leads Valley Conference With Orange and Fond du Lac Tied for Second

	W	L	Pct
East Green Bay	1	0	1.000
Appleton	1	1	.500
Fond du Lac	1	1	.500
West Green Bay	1	1	.500
Sheboygan	1	1	.500
Marquette	0	1	.000
Manitowoc	0	1	.000
Oshkosh	0	1	.000

Saturday's contest with LaCrosse will not affect Appleton high school's standing in the Valley football conference, but Oshkosh will play at West Green Bay and Sheboygan at Manitowoc in conference tilts. By defeating Marquette Saturday, 3 to 0, East Green Bay, assisted by the defeat of West Green Bay which was in the lead, jumped to the top of the conference. Fond du Lac was responsible for the drop taken by West Green Bay and its victory over the Fondy squad in a second place tie with the Orange, which swamped Manitowoc, 33 to 0. Oshkosh has yet to make its first bow in the conference.

Although Saturday's game at Lawrence field will have no bearing on their standings, the Appleton gridgers are working overtime in preparation for the LaCrosse tilt. The game is looked upon as the hardest on the schedule, for LaCrosse is accustomed to meeting the largest schools in the state and is said to have an exceptionally strong lineup this year.

Wednesday afternoon the Orange youngsters clashed with the Lawrence freshmen in scrimmage. They made a fair showing on the offense but the Lawrence rearlings often opened wide gaps in their line for big gains. The Orange are much heavier than any other squad on the high school schedule and considering this and other advantages the Appleton high school youngsters made a "fair" showing.

MORRIS SCHLAEFER
Mickey Walker, welterweight champion of the world, says Morris Schlaefer of Omaha is the hardest hitting opponent he ever met.
"I knocked the Hebrew out in six rounds in the west last year," says Walker, "but before I did he got over punch that shook me to my toes."
Schlaefer is one of those in and out battlers. One night he may look like a mite, and the next you wouldn't trade him for a wet cracker.

NORWAY is changing the name of its capital to Christiania, to Oslo, but we still have Peckinpau, Wamsburg, McGillicuddy and Picnic in the American League.

A Princeton cheer leader has hobbled up with a broken arm, proving the introduction of the forward pass hasn't eliminated all the brutality from the game.

It is proposed to put baseball under federal control to prevent future scandals. If your sense of humor isn't completely out of joint you ought to get a hoarse gaww out of that.

Young Stribling has gone back to school but by now he already knows the one two punch has nothing to do with mathematics.

Cobb writes that Hornsby is the greatest slugger he ever saw. Can it be that Ty has forgot the slugging Encke gave him last spring?

Bucky Harris has entered the banking business. But any Washington fan will tell you he always looked like ready money.

The Marquette eleven is just beginning to realize a press agent is more important than a fast backfield and a flawless line.

Leonard May Give Up Laurels Like Dundee

New York—Benny Leonard is about ready to announce his retirement as a lightweight. It is not probable that he will follow the lead of Johnny Dundee, recently retired feather king, and vacate the throne without another defending contest. Leonard has always been heavy, and is not getting any lighter. Leonard could have made the weight this summer if a legitimate challenger had been developed. He had gone through a long series of training and was on a simple diet. Leonard had hopes Luis Vicentini, the Chilean, would come through fast enough to qualify for a championship test. Vicentini, hardest hitter among the challengers, had the stuff but futtered away his chances in Broadway cafes. One by one the other contenders faded into obscurity until presently none was left with the slightest claim to distinction as a lightweight challenger. Leonard then arranged a bout with Mike Walker for the welterweight title. This did not come off, due to an injured thumb sustained by Leonard. This bout will not be held until next summer. It will be an open air attraction with Tex Rickard doing the promoting. If Leonard wins he will continue in the ring as welterweight champion. Otherwise he will hang up the mittens for good. Leonard promises to be the second lightweight champion to retire undefeated Jack McAuliffe, old timer, was the other. Leonard's retirement will be due to weight. McAuliffe's was due to lack of competition. In McAuliffe's day the title was not worth a great deal of money. It has been worth nearly $500,000 to Leonard.

Ripon Sees 80 To 0 Win

Ripon—A torch light parade and mass meeting on the public square here Friday night will open festivities for Ripon college homecomers. In anticipation of the Lawrence-Ripon homecoming game the next day, a duel similar to that of 1892, in which the Crusaders defeated the Appletonians by an 80 to 0 score will be run off on the gridiron installed at Ripon a short time ago. Already over 200 alumni have signed up to be present at the annual Ripon-Lawrence football classic.

Ted Olson, offensive fullback of the Ripon eleven, was elected captain for the remainder of the season and will pilot the Dreiling machine in the homecoming fracas.

OLD STANFORD COACH MASTER OF STRATEGY

No football coach in the country is more original than Pop Warner, now in charge at Stanford. Many of football's best trick plays were originated by Warner. He first gained fame with them when coaching the Carlisle Indians.

MUSSEL HAS BEST ARM

Bob Mussel of the New York Amer team has the strongest and most accurate throwing arm in the majors. He usually throws strikes on every ball from the outfield.

CHICAGO'S HOPES HINGE ON MAROON TILT WITH OHIO

Clash Between Minnesota and Iowa of Almost Equal Importance

By Associated Press
Chicago—The Western conference football championship aspirations of Chicago's Maroon are hinged on the "Maroon" game this week with Ohio State. Of almost equal importance as the Big Ten teams complete their preparations, is the clash between Minnesota and Iowa, both undefeated but with no games on their records. Midwest football interest also follows Notre Dame, leaving Thursday for the east to engage Princeton. The Buckeye proteges still bear the marks of the struggle with the Aints on their first eastern invasion and although Captain Adam Walsh accompanies the team, his place in the line is taken by Harmon, veteran 185-pound pilot. Ohio's long passes are the chief worry of Coach Stagg of Chicago. The Maroon line is intact and is considered capable of holding the Buckeyes, but the veteran mentor is not sure of the general defensive tactics of the squad. Meanwhile at the Ohio camp offensive plays are being concentrated upon. Coach Bill Spaulding of Minnesota is experimenting with varied lineups while Iowa is rounding out a week of strenuous scrimmages in secret. The victor of Saturday's contest at Iowa City will be entitled to championship consideration in the event no team goes through the conference season undefeated.

Wisconsin, undefeated but tied with Minnesota, hopes to advance its standing in the weekend melee with Michigan at Ann Arbor by giving special attention to defenses calculated to halt Herb Steger. At the Wolverine camp, because of Rockwell's condition, Steger appears likely to play quarterback instead of half. Coach Test's shakeup of the team after the Illinois game is having good effect on the Wolverine morale. Coach Zuppke is pointing the Illinois for the Iowa game next week in his preparations for DePaul and North western Saturday's host to the Michigan Aggies is looking toward the Indiana game on Nov. 1. Indiana and Purdue on vacation this week, continue conditioning workouts.

Grid Fans Not Strong For Huddle

Chicago—The huddle system of giving signals is not meeting with great favor in the east. For several years it has been a part of western football, many of the leading teams resorting to it.

In the huddle system, instead of having the signal called as the teams line up the side having the ball goes into conference before each play.

The valvers collect in a small circle, heads close together, as the play is called. Any player in doubt as to the play, or who debates the wisdom of using such a play, has the right to raise the question.

The claim is made in the east that much time is lost through the use of the huddle system. This is erroneous. Check has been kept on the use of both systems and there is little or no difference in the time consumed.

There is no denying, however, that considerable color is taken from the game by eliminating the calling of the signals in favor of the silent huddle system. A certain thrill always went with the shouting of the signals.

KELLY VERSATILE PLAYER

Kelly of the Giants is rated the most versatile player in the National league. In the recent world series he played the outfield, second and first base against the Nationals and did a good job of it. He is also a dangerous batsman.

Four Lawrence Grid Stars Lost On Eve Of Ripon Invasion

Stoll and Kiessling Crippled in Iowa Game, Cooke and Olifson Out on Nine Semester Ruling

With two of his veterans out of the game with injuries resulting from the Iowa City contest and two ineligible under the nine semester ruling, Coach Mark Catlin is looking for a quartet of huskies to replace them. Jake Stoll, captain and end, will be out for several weeks with a stiff knee; Kiessling, also an end, is nursing a sore ankle, while Cooke end, and Olifson, center, are putting in their ninth semester at Lawrence and therefore are eligible only for the Carroll game which is the only extra conference tilt left on the Blue menu.

Boettcher and Holdridge Wednesday afternoon were working as ends, with Hipke at center. All three of these huskies have played the positions before, so the change will make no great difference to them, but Catlin is taking no chances. Gander will be held in reserve to back up Hipke, and several second and third stringers will be ready to go in whenever it becomes necessary.

DEVELOPS AERIAL GAME

Aerial tactics were the chief item on Wednesday's workout. In this department Cooke's ineligibility will hit the squad hard for the lanky end displayed unusual accuracy in picking the ball out of the air and it will be hard to find a substitute. Kotal has developed a low, fast pass, straight as a bullet, but the other end of it still is an uncertain quantity. For this reason Catlin is giving his charges plenty of time to work on the passing game, and probably will have them in shape by Saturday when they invade Ripon.

In line with the mentor's policy of giving every man on his squad a chance to get into the game, the entire string of Lawrence football candidates Saturday will journey to Ripon in a special car hired for the purpose. Furthermore the gridgers will be supported by a large bunch of rooters who plan to accompany them, and since the Iowa contest, it looks as though this contingent will include a large and enthusiastic crowd of alumni as well as a big percentage of the student body.

LAWRENCE PLANS FOR HOMECOMING

Plans for the Lawrence homecoming on Nov. 15, which will be featured by the Hamline-Lawrence football game here, are well under way, according to an announcement by Marvin H. Keil, football manager and general chairman of the homecoming committee.

Fraternity houses and the business section of the city will be in gala attire for this occasion and a big parade is planned to start the festivities. Cross country events also will be included on the program and in the evening the two football squads and "L" men of former days will be tendered a banquet.

SERIES PROVED GIANTS DON'T LIKE SOUTHPAWS

The success of Southpaws Zachary and Mcgridge of Washington against the New York Giants made it apparent McGraw's club is weak against left-handers. Ty Cobb of Detroit regrets he didn't get a chance to use Whitehall, Wells, Leonard and Cole against the National League champs.

KAUKAUNA LEGION MEETS LAPHAMS IN SUNDAY BATTLE

Electric City Squad Seeks to Wipe Out Only Defeat in Three Years

Kaukauna grid fans are primed for the hardest battle of years when the Legionaires clash with the Milwaukee Laphams Sunday afternoon at Kaukauna, for the Cream City squad is the only one able to boast a victory over the Legion eleven during the past three years, and the Electric City huskies are planning to wipe out the blot.

The Laphams scored their victory last year at Kaukauna. Their latest victory came last Sunday when they beat the strong Manitowoc City team, 14 to 0. Kaukauna noted out a hard-won victory over the same team, 7 to 0, two weeks ago, which gives the Laphams a slight edge, on paper.

Les Smith and his educated toe are expected to play a big role in this contest. Les is supported by Dan Reardon, Hartjes and Wager in the backfield with Nick Mertes directing

Zup Drills Grange To Heave Pass

Urbana, Ill.—Harold (Red) Grange, all-American halfback of Illinois, can run as well as ever and is now, in addition, an excellent running pass thrower. In addition he kicks well.

Coach Robert Zuppke, knowing Grange's runs this season would be watched by opposition eleven, has taught him to start wide around the end and suddenly, while in full stride, shoot a pass to a teammate. Grange's passes do not mount over six feet in the air and travel with unusual speed and accuracy.

PENN STATE LOSES FIVE STARS OFF GRID SQUAD

Penn State loses five stars of last year in Wilson, Bedenk, Schuster, Frank and Palm. There was no better running back in the east last year than Wilson. Several times he saved Penn by long runs through a broken field.

The fray at quarterback. This is said to be one of the fastest and flashiest backfields in amateur circles of the whole state, an dthe line is on a par with these stars.

'Stop Grange' Is Battle Cry Of Squads On Illinois' Menu

STOP GRANGE. That is the slogan of every football coach that has the University of Illinois as an opponent. Last fall Grange made his debut unheralded. He was easily the sensation of the country. His great work was in a place on every All-American eleven.

This year the name Grange is a byword in the camp of every Illinois rival. Grange must be stopped if Zuppke's team is to be beaten is the theory.

Coch Zuppke, one of the shrewdest football strategists in the country is well aware of the campaign against Grange.

MICHIGAN DEFENSE FAILS. The first big test of the year, the Michigan game, Grange made it apparent that it is going to be a tough job to stop him.

No doubt Coaches Yost and Little of Michigan have decided that it can't be done, unless rival teams resort to the larriat, a machine gun or pugilistic knife.

Grange made five touchdowns against Michigan and threw a forward pass that made possible the other Illinois score.

In all the Illinois star gained over 400 yards more than was gained by all of Michigan's opponents combined last season.

Last year Grange ran wide at all times. Michigan's defense had been built against such methods.

Coch Zuppke of Illinois upset the well laid plans by having Grange cut in and match his speed and dodging ability against a broken field.

DE ELOPS OTHER STARS. With this thought in mind Zuppke has developed several other brilliant ball-carriers. While the rival eleven are concentrating on Grange Zuppke is hopeful that some other backfield man will get away.

In the opening game of the season with Nebraska, Zuppke uncovered the fact that he intends shifting Grange's style of play this year.

Last year Grange did little or no passing. He was invariably on the receiving end of any play. Zuppke has given Grange another threat. He now passes as well as he receives the ball.

ZUPPKE SHIFTS TACTICS. Early in the Nebraska game, the savvy one of that team succeeded in breaking through the light Illinois line, towards time after time, throwing Grange for a loss.

Then it was that Zuppke shifted his tactics. Grange instead of carrying the ball began to toss long forward passes. A number of them were completed.

This scheme caused the secondary defense of Nebraska to filter back to stop the passes.

With the secondary defense back and with Nebraska convinced that Grange was no longer dangerous as a ball-carrier, Illinois went back to Grange.

In quick succession he reeled off several long runs, Nebraska being entirely unprepared for such an offense.

USES CHANGE OF PACE. Later Zuppke has developed a change of pace for Grange. It is his intention to keep the opposition guessing. Having them in that frame of mind there is always a chance that Grange may get away for a long run.

STOP GRANGE. It is a great idea if properly executed.

However, there is always a chance that some other Illinois player will get away while concentrating on Grange.

Incidentally it is going to be a tough job to stop the same Mr. Grange at Michigan.

PIGSKIN PRIMER

What is the line of scrimmage?

The scrimmage line applies to the men lined up on either side of the ball when it is put into play.

Please explain the term illegal formation.

If the team putting the ball into play does not have at least seven men on the line of scrimmage the formation is illegal.

If any of the tackles, guards or centers are not on the line of scrimmage and are less than five yards back of that line, the formation is illegal and a five-yard penalty is imposed.

HORNBY SETS NEW RECORD. Rogers Hornby, in battling well over 400 for 1924, again leads the National League and sets a new record of toping that organization for five successive years. He is the most consistent batsman in the majors.

BADGERS LEAVE FOR ANN ARBOR AFTER TWO DAYS OF DRILL

Wisconsin Squad Pointed to Meet Wolverines in Saturday's Contest

Madison—After but two days of hard scrimmage since the Minnesota game last Saturday, the Wisconsin team Thursday prepared to leave for Ann Arbor where Saturday, it will engage the Michigan Wolverines. The team was to leave Madison late Thursday afternoon, following a light workout at Randall field.

Going to Milwaukee, the squad will be transferred to a special train and proceed into Michigan. Friday night will be spent at Jackson, Mich., under present plans where a light workout will be had Friday afternoon.

Long scrimmage sessions through which the team went Tuesday and Wednesday were featured by imitations of the Steger Miller-Rockwell trio of Michigan. The All-Americans wore numerals and names of the Michigan players to give the varsity a realistic idea of the work of the Wolverines.

Coach Ryan has been pointing his men particularly toward stopping the famous Sager. Linebackers have been given long and strenuous workouts at blocking and tackling and have been coached to the last minute on Stog.

PRINCETON TIGERS USE HUDDLE SYSTEM ON GRID

The showing of Princeton against Lehigh, being held to a scoreless tie, coupled with the defeat of Cornell by Williams, furnished the first two surprises of the year, Princeton, strongly touted, fresh from a 40 to 6 win over Amherst, played poor football against Lehigh.

The Michigan passing formations also came in for a share of the smothering. Badger coaches have sought particularly to insult light into the team. In this respect, the team showed a marked improvement in the Minnesota contest. The Badgers expressed few opinions of the probable outcome of the game other than a desire to average the 6 to 3 defeat handed them by the Wolverines here last year.

Teach Caution
Not Grave Fear
To Your Child

"Don't do this and don't do that," were admonitions of the mothers of Anytown, as well as of any other part of the world.

It is quite natural that a mother should warn a child against various dangers, but to put definite fear into the heart of the child is something quite different.

The proper procedure is to explain carefully the conditions of a thing which a child needs to fear—whether it be an automobile or disease. And it should be a sense of caution rather than of fear that is implanted.

The offices of nerve specialists are crowded with cases of "fear neurosis." These are people with nameless fears and when their minds are trailed back to childhood it is frequently found that nameless fear were implanted in them for years.

Teaching of caution is instinctive. It is to be found in the lower animals, but the parent should be most careful not to confuse it with fear. For fears are terrible things and lead to depression and general unfitness for enjoyment.

Don't frighten the children with threats of the bogey-man.

Don't frighten them with fears and threats.

Instruct them, and there will be no need for threats and fears.

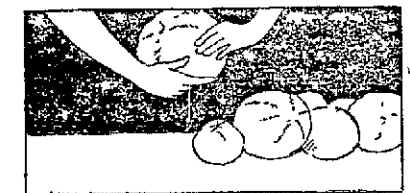

Household
Suggestions

SILVER AND GOLD

Keep silver and gold chains bright by covering occasionally with paste of sifted whiting and ammonia, then brush off with a soft cloth or a chamamo skin.

LARGE MELONS BEST

Large Honey Dew and Cassaba melons are usually better than the smaller ones.

The test for ripeness is the same as that of smaller varieties.

WITH WHIPPED CREAM

Apples, dates and oranges make a good dessert with whipped cream or salad with mayonnaise or French dressing.

OATMEAL CRACKERS

Home-made oatmeal crackers, crisp and wholesome, make attractive lunches, when spread with honey. A paste made of milled raisins is always an acceptable spread for bread and crackers.

KEEP IN COOL PLACE

Store lemons in a cool dry place. If each one is wrapped in dark paper it will keep longer.

PLAN FOR WEEK

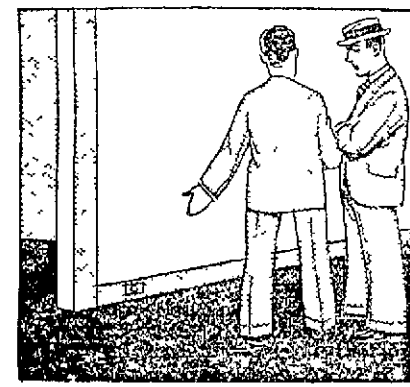

Plan a week's meals at a time. A meal that is planned with reference to others has better food values and more variety at less expense than one planned with reference to only one serving.

LEFT-OVER EGGS

If you have boiled or poached eggs left over from breakfast they may be utilized for sandwich fillings, with soup or salads or served with spinach.

How To Make Homes Cozy

HAVE ENOUGH BASE PLUGS

There are never too many base plugs or extension receptacles in a room. This is a good point to remember in building a home, for the addition of a base plug costs only about 42 cents. Receptacles in the kitchen are particularly handy.

Special Dance, Friday night, Oct. 24, at Giesen's Hall, Stephensville. Orientals of Oshkosh play. Busses at Pettibone's corner at 8:30.

Midsummer Gowns

These two midsummer gowns stress line rather than trimming. Both are of white crepe de chine and both are as simple in effect as it is possible to make them, but they are subtle, too, in their discrimination. The long sleeved model is embroidered in black chenille and banded with black velvet. The sleeveless model has three tunics in different shades of green that form a border about the hemline. It is bound at the neck and armholes with the darkest shade of green and a tassel of just that size falls from the waistline nearly to the hemline.

A Chinese Girl Isn't Any Different From
Her American Sister

Washington.—Mildred Wen was her father's cashier in the Hong Kong Low restaurant here.

One day the Hong Kong Low had an out of town customer, a New Yorker, Lee Y. Nahme.

Lee fell in love with Mildred, but he didn't say so.

A week later Father Wen, who is rich, received a letter from a very prominent countryman, Father Nahme, president of the New York Chinese Merchants' Association. It was a proposal of marriage—between Lee and Mildred. Father Wen agreed.

Christmas Day—a year ago last Christmas—was set for the wedding. Great preparations were made. Lee arrived.

On Christmas Eve Mildred vanished.

In the midst of a frenzied search Mildred disappeared.

Sue didn't want to marry Lee, she said. Yes, she liked him. But "how could she tell?" She knew him. She couldn't be forced into marriage. She was American. China's ancient customs were discussed. Mildred was reminded of them. She yielded. This time New Year Day was fixed for the wedding. On New Year Eve Mildred disappeared again.

Gloom descended on the Wen household. If his daughter returned Father Wen swore he would send her to China to be forever out of sight of the family she had disgraced. But for her three younger children Mother Wen declared she would kill herself.

Mildred heard of this. Through an intermediary she sent word she would come back if Lee still wouldn't marry her. Lee consented. But Mildred changed her mind again. She didn't come. Months passed.

Without funds, the girl finally returned home. Notwithstanding her father's threats, she was received with rejoicing.

Then Mildred did the typical American feminine thing.

She went to New York, where Lee was, allowed herself to be courted, and decided she loved Lee after all.

Now they are married and living happily ever afterward.

FASHION HINTS

SHORTER WAISTS
Many shorter waisted dresses are being shown for the younger women. The short waist it is well known is infinitely more youthful than the long one.

TUNIC OUTFITS
Some of the loveliest tunic outfits are of black and white satin and the white over-tunic comes to within six inches of the black hem.

UNUSUAL COAT
An unusual coat is of quilted taffeta trimmed with gold braid and very narrow bands of ermine.

PARAMA NEGLIGEE
The parama negligee is much smaller than the lace-trimmed affair for the slender woman. It comes in the most gorgeous colorings and fabrics and has an irresistible appeal.

Adventures
Of The Twins

TWEEKANOSE PROMISES TO BE GOOD

When the swordfish poked his sharp nose into the bag of sleepy sand and spilled it all over the ocean. Tweekanose laughed and laughed.

"Ha, ha, ha! Ho, ho, ho!" he chuckled. "You've caught me but it won't do you any good. The sleepy sand is gone."

Oh, goodness! That doesn't matter," exclaimed Nancy. "We know a charm."

"Yes, I know," said Tweekanose. "but your old charm won't do you any good, either. Suppose you do gather up the magic sand. You haven't a thing to put it into. The bag is all torn. There's a great big hole in it!"

That's easy to fix," said Nancy. "We know another charm."

"Say what are you talking about?" whispered the Sand Man uneasily. "We don't know any charm that will mend holes."

"Of course we do," said Nancy. "The one Davy Jones taught us. Don't you remember?"

She picked up the torn bag and gathered the edges of the hole together and said:

"Ink, wunk."

Hole, ponder and tank!

Down under the water.

It's right you should shrink."

And instantly the hole shrank and shrank until there wasn't any hole left at all and the bag was as good as new.

Even Tweekanose was so astonished that he had to say, "Well, the very idea!"

Suddenly the Sand Man said, "In my Jimmy!"

That was the other charm that the Green Wizard had taught them.

Instantly all the magic sand separated itself from the rest of the sand and on the bottom of the ocean and jumped into the bag and then the bag flew to the Sand Man's shoulder.

"There is nothing more to be done now," said the Sand Man. "so we'll be getting along. Twins! It's long past moon up on the earth and I'm sure all the mothers think I've gone to sleep for twenty years like Riv Van Winkle. But better late than never, say I!"

"I will keep Tweekanose here with me," said Captain Pennywinkle. "I'm sort of a policeman anyway."

And will you please tell all the electric-light fishes and the lobsters and the whales and the sounds how very much obliged we are for trying to help us," said Nancy, who never forgot her manners.

"Dead 'n I will," nodded Captain Pennywinkle.

"Please, sir, if you'll let me go," begged Tweekanose. "I'll promise to be good. I'll never steal another baby's nose, and I'll never try to steal the sleepy sand again, and I'll promise not to sit on the chimneys and steal the dreams the Dream Maker Man drops down."

"What shall I do, Mister Sand Man?" asked Captain Pennywinkle.

"What shall he do, Twins?" asked the Sand Man.

"Let him go," said Nancy. "I know he's going to be good."

So Captain Pennywinkle let the bad little gnome go, and the last they saw of him, he was riding off on a starfish.

"Goodbye, Cap'n," said the Sand Man.

"Goodbye," said the Twins.

And they swam up to the top of the ocean and waded out on the shore.

Women Helped
By Exercise
Given To Feet

Give your feet a chance and they'll carry you a long way.

That was what Mr. Mann's physical director used to say in advising foot exercises.

"I've been thinking of exercising pretty nearly all the rest of the body but neglect the feet. This is particularly applicable to women."

Now so common a thing as toeing in or toeing out affects the muscles of the feet and the trunk muscles as well. And to correct the general posture it is necessary to begin from the bottom and work upward.

The first lesson to learn is Toe straight ahead.

Then to give the feet exercise, try this one in your daily dozen.

Londoners are comparing this treatment with that accorded Miss Abby Rockefeller, daughter of John D. Jr., a New York police court. New York City officials are still investigating the circumstances under which Miss Rockefeller, heiress to millions, though she had been brought into escaped punishment of any kind even court for the second time.

I confess, little Marquise, that my heart sank a bit, as Jack wondered what his mother would say about my bobbed hair. She is so hide-bound with traditions and conventions that I was sure she would be horrified. For a moment I felt as though I had made a mistake. You see, I had tried so hard to make Jack's mother like me and I felt I had succeeded. At last instant I was afraid that I had undone all that it had taken me the whole three years of my married life to accomplish. I told myself, being in fashion was not worth my family's displeasure.

But things never turn out just as you expect them.

When we opened the door, I found not only Mother Prescott, in the living room but Priscilla Bradford fussed, but she rose to the occasion.

You know Priscilla Bradford, mother Prescott seemed rather she said as she came forward to kiss me. "She telegraphed me yesterday to ask me if she might come to see me and, of course, I answered with an invitation to call. However I did not realize she was coming quite so soon or I could have asked her to wait until tomorrow, knowing that you would be in today, my dear."

Priscilla Bradford came forward slowly, almost hesitantly. She had removed her hat. Both Jack and I caught a good view of her smiling face and with one accord we both burst into laughter.

Mother Prescott looked much chagrined and rather unhappy and Priscilla Bradford surprised and indignant. Yet for the life of me I could not stop laughing.

Finally, however, I managed to calm myself enough to explain. You see, Miss Bradford, I bobbed my own hair when I was in New York and Jack has been expostulating with me as we drove up here from the station. Among other things he seemed to think that his mother would be horrified when she saw what I had done.

From what he said I felt, Mother Prescott, that you would think I had committed the unpardonable sin. Then we came in here to find you sitting with your old friend Miss Bradford, who, evidently not content with a plain bob has had her's shingled.

Naturally we both laughed. We couldn't help it.

At this Mother Prescott joined with us and even Priscilla Bradford gave a wry smile.

"I had just been telling dear Priscilla that I thought her hair was very becoming and that she looked 10 years younger. Take off your hat, Leslie, and let us see how you look."

Slowly I uncovered my shorn locks, and looked into the three faces before me.

Mother Prescott's was unqualifyingly approving, Priscilla Bradford's was slightly envious, for my bobbed head made me also look 10 years younger, and Jack—dear old Jack—at first looked hurt and then a smile curled up his lips as he came forward saying "You're right, Les. You are more of a beauty than ever." Little Marquise, it was an eventful homecoming, a rapturous welcome, almost a quarrel, nervous fear of disapprobation turned into joyous approbation and a knowledge that after all almost everything comes out right if you wait a little. COULD NOT WALK

BECAUSE OF PAIN

Bad Case of Woman's Illness Remedied by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

St. Louis, Mo.—"I had such a bad case of female trouble that I could not walk because of the pains from inflammation. My back was all done up. I could hardly bend, could not go up stairs because of weakness, and no one could possibly be in worse shape than I was. I have taken 12 bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and I am a strong woman now and can work down any of my neighbors. They wonder how I can do so much work. I dare say that I have recommended your medicine to a thousand women. A little book was thrown at my door, and that is how I first learned of it."—Mrs. D. M. BEAUCHAMP, 1104 Morrison Avenue, St. Louis, Missouri.

Letters like this bring out the merit of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. They tell of the relief from such pains and ailments after taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

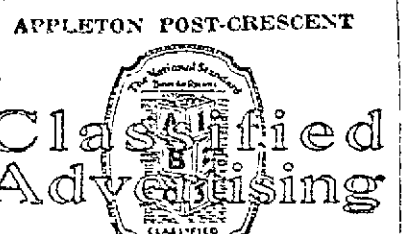

In a recent country-wide canvass of purchasers of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, 98 out of every 100 report they were benefited by its use. For sale by druggists everywhere.

Thousands of Dollars for Your Protection

Come See The Methods That The Valley Dairy Products Co. Use in Making The Dairy Products That You Buy From Them

SAFE--SANITARY--HEALTHFUL

Don't Take a Chance, Take Precautions

Protect Your Family's Health

Can you afford to endanger the health of your family—can you take a chance on the purity of the food that they eat and drink? Milk, Cream and other dairy products, if properly purified and handled in a sanitary way, are the most nutritious foodstuffs that one could wish for,—but on the other hand,—if the most rigid precautions are not taken to keep these products pure they very often spread disease. Note the various methods that we take in keeping the products that we handle pure and safe for everyone. Compare this modern plant and organization with the average creamery and then you will see why so many people are demanding Valley Dairy Products from their grocer.

Our Sales Room

Our salesroom is all in white, our attendants are dressed in white, everything in the room bespeaks cleanliness. A large refrigerator holds and keeps cool, the food that you wish to buy.

Filling Bottles

Our milk bottles are filled entirely by machinery under the most sanitary conditions. The milk and cream runs direct from the large coolers to the machine pictured here. This machine fills every bottle, and seals it so that it is air-tight and in every way germ-proof. Human hands do not touch the bottles while they are being filled and capped. The machinery is so manufactured that it can be and is thoroughly cleaned and sterilized daily. Phone Four Order!

Making Butter

Valdair Butter is made in this churn pictured here. Only the finest cream obtainable, properly mixed and churned by an expert buttermaker could make such a fine tasting butter as Valdair. Much of the success of butter making is due to the butter-makers' ability. We have in our plant several of the best butter-makers in this section of the country. The butter is made in this large churn, then packed into these cases where it is frozen and later made into prints. Ask for VALDAIR BUTTER.

Besides all this we are very particular in buying our raw milk and cream

Cooling the Milk

After the pasteurization the milk and cream is run through these freezing cold cylinders to cool it. The Sanitary Tubular Cooler cools the milk and cream to a temperature that it is easy to keep.

Cleaning Bottles

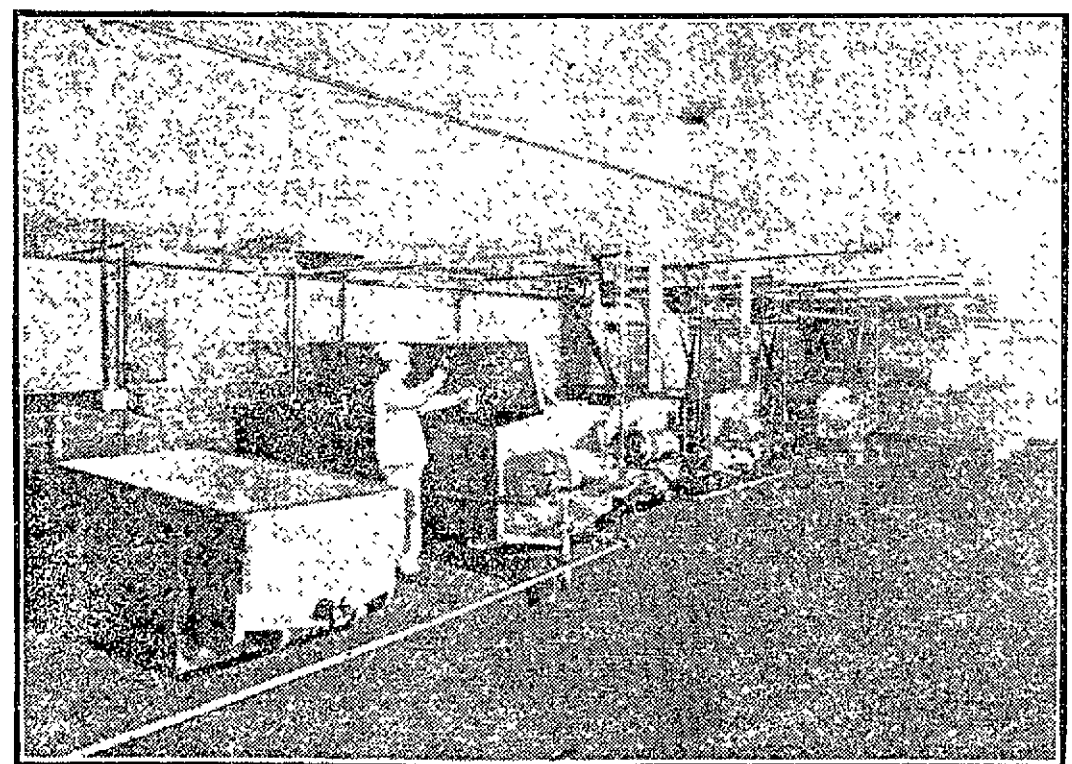

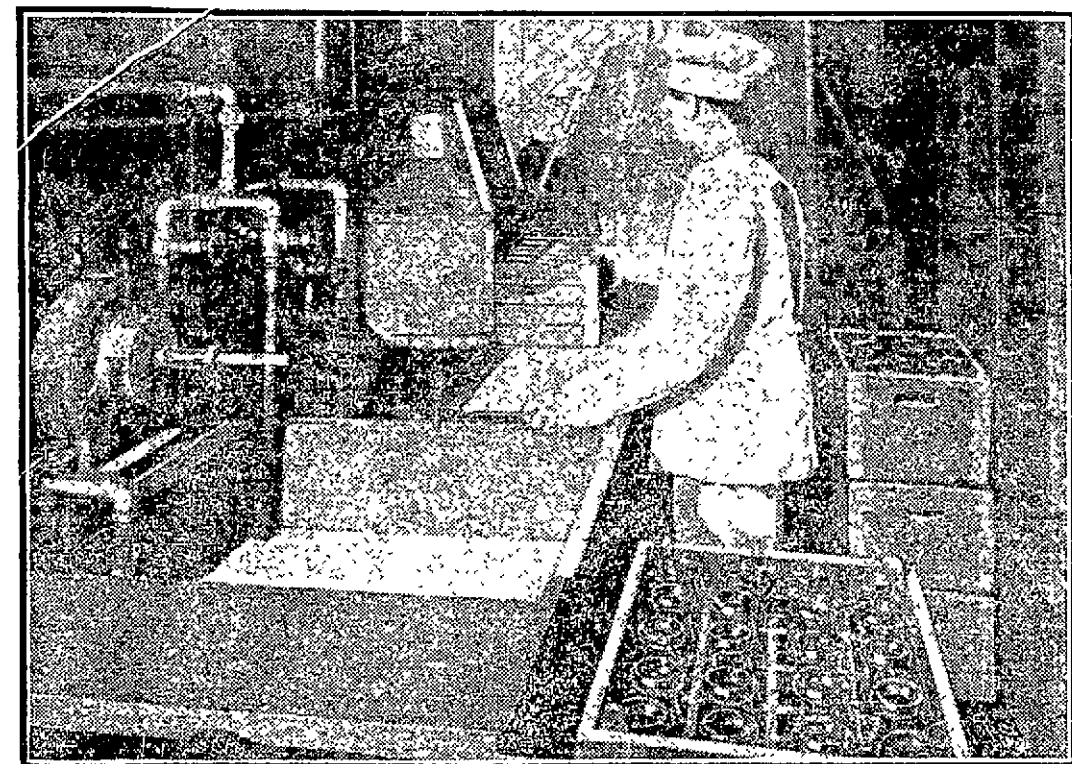

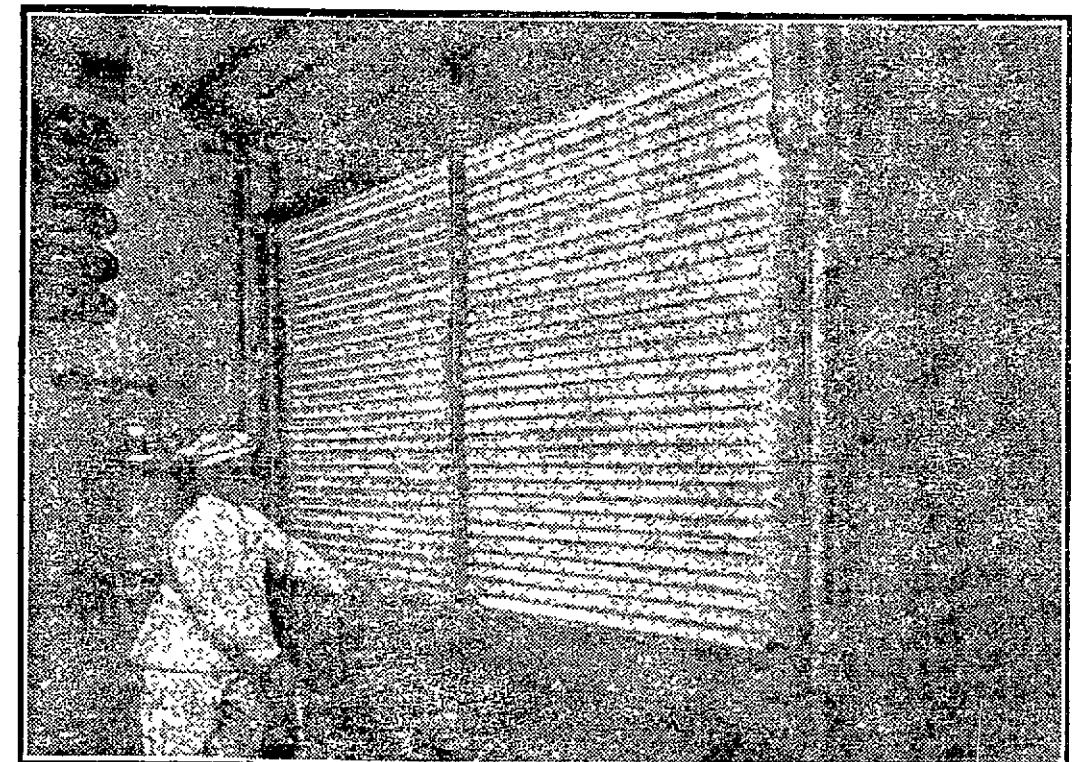

Every bottle that comes into our plant is carefully washed, sterilized and dried before it is sent to the bottle filling machine. The electric driven brush pictured here with its long stiff bristles scours the bottle thoroughly removes every possibility of any germs. After the bottle is cleaned it is sent to the dryer, where it is dried by heat. From the dryer it goes immediately to the bottle filling machine. The illustration to the right will show you how this is done.

Pasteurization

Pasteurization, this is the process that makes the raw milk and cream which comes from the farm pure and safe. This milk and cream is put into these four large tanks, and held there at a very high temperature for thirty minutes. This extreme heat kills every germ that might spread disease. From these tanks it is run through the coolers and then put in bottles where it is sealed. Pasteurization offers a protection from germs that no other process can claim. Insist on pasteurized milk.

Growth-The Result of Quality

With us, the result of quality has been growth. From a little one room office four years ago, our plant has grown to its present size. Thousands of dollars have been spent on the machinery that you see here, — machinery that makes it possible for us to make everything that we sell pure and wholesome.—machinery that washes, sterilizes and dries our milk bottles,—machinery that tests our milk, machinery that makes our butter. In fact every method of purification and sanitation that is practical is now in operation in our plant.
